| Describe the educational and informational objective of the program and how it meets the definition of Core Programming. | The Inspectors is a scripted dramatic series set in Washington, D.C., inspired by compelling real cases handled by the United States Postal Inspection Service. In the series, Preston Wainwright (Bret Green), a determined young man who is thriving after being paralyzed in a car accident, works as an intern assisting his U.S. Postal inspector mom, Amanda (Daytime Emmy Award Winner Jessica Lundy), to solve crimes that deal with everything from internet scams, identity and mail theft, to consumer fraud. In season four, Preston's dreams of walking again one day have taken a huge step toward reality. But the hard part has just begun, and his recovery becomes as mental as it is physical. Also, Preston and his friends, Veronica (Erica-Marie Sanchez) and Noah (Harrison Knight), begin their senior year at Jamestown University and start to think about life after college. From their careers to their relationships, they will face major choices that will shape their destinies. The Inspectors strives to educate young people about making the right choices in their daily lives, encourages open communication between teens and parents, and includes positive messaging regarding living with disabilities, overcoming challenges, beating the odds and the power of perseverance. Terry Serpico also stars. The United States Postal Inspection Service, the nation's oldest federal law enforcement agency, serves as the show's official programming resource. |

| Include any other comments or information you want the Commission to consider in evaluating your compliance with the Children's Television Act (or use this space for supplemental explanations). This may include information on any other noncore educational and informational programming that you aired this quarter or plan to air during the next quarter, or any existing or proposed non-broadcast efforts that will enhance the educational and informational value of such programming to children. See 47 C.F.R. Section 73.671, NOTES 2 and 3. | On Monday, September 3, 2018, the programming on KCBS-TV's D2 channel changed from the Decades Network to the Start TV Network. As a result, the station ceased broadcasting Children's educational and informational programming supplied by the Decades Network following the weekend of September 1-2, 2018 and began broadcasting children's educational and informational programming supplied by the Start TV Network on the weekend of September 8-9, 2018. On Saturday, July7, Innovation Nation aired at 7am instead of Lucky Dog. This was a mistake made in the playback of our recordings of the shows due to a numbering error on our logs. We have implemented procedures to insure that this error does not happen again. |
